GVEC Improvement Rebate Program

Energy costs continue to rise and environmental concerns are a part of our daily lives. GVEC recognizes this need and is introducing the GVEC Improvement Rebate Program. Along with existing energy efficiency education programs such as online energy tools, no cost energy audits and other energy awareness programs, GVEC is now offering rebate incentives to further promote energy conservation and efficiency.

With several rebate programs to choose from there are many opportunities to save. Choosing the right program and one that will benefit you the most can be challenging. Be sure to consult with a qualified contractor or a GVEC Member Services Advisor to determine which rebate program would have the most impact. Rebates are eligible only if completed by a listed GVEC contractor. For a complete list of eligible contractors visit our web site at www.gvec.org and click on rebate programs.
